Central Drugs Compounding Pharmacy is proud to present our Bioidentical Hormone Replacement Therapy (BHRT) workshop featuring Paul Savage, MD and Nayan Patel, PharmD.

BHRT has grown over the past decade as men and women are seeking healthier options to revitalize and restore energy into their life. Join us for this 2-day comprehensive workshop and learn from the industry's anti-aging experts. Our small setting gives our attendees the opportunity to interact with our speakers. Our workshop focuses on the principles and foundations of hormone and bioidentical hormone replacement therapy and provides the knowledge to identify a wide variety of BHRT patient cases. In addition, our BHRT workshop provides practical applications that can be applied to your business.

Course Objectives:

- Principles and foundation of hormones and bioidentical hormone replacement therapy
- Recognize and diagnose hormone deficiencies including Thyroid and Cortisol in male and female patients
- How to interpret laboratory tests and monitor therapies
- Formulate customized medication therapy regimens for patients with hormone related diseases
- Learn about nutritional supplements and how it complements bioidentical hormone replacement therapy
- What to look for when partnering with a compounding pharmacy
